

Introduction

Two web tasks for pupils to research either a planet of their choice or a disease-causing microorganism using a Word document that incorporates hyperlinks to websites providing the information they need. Using Word documents in this way enables you to structure pupils' research so that they do not use time searching for websites.

Running the activity

Use for ICT in Science lesson. Provide the Word document on each computer. Internet access (or access to the required sites on your server) is required.

Safety

Not applicable.

More ideas

- See www.scienceconsortium.com for further activities of this sort.
- Amend the Word document to suit your pupils and different topics.

Learning outcomes

- Development of ICT skills in the use of world wide web.
